The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Sports Fans Vote, Too

A "cliff hanger" postponement of the San Diego International Sports Arena foreclosure was announced last week just before the deadline. A 30 day reprieve was granted by city officials.

This would allow principals to hold a series of meetings at which the nuts and bolts of a program can be worked out so that an "oppressive tax burden" can be softened by city and county governments. Biggest part of it is the $123,000 a year possessory interest tax.

The reaction to shoving the arena to the wall became apparent last week at the regular Tuesday press conference conducted by members of the Sportscasters-Sportswriters Association which meets at Casa di Baffi in Hillcrest. These press conferences are closed to the public but the public gets full reports via reporter members.

The conferences are useful and revealing. Visiting coaches, players, promoters, game officials and club owners face a moment of truth as they face inquisitive reporters.

Last week, two government officials responded to the growing concern about the arena. San Diego City Manager Walter Hahn and County Board of Supervisors Chairman Henry Boney faced reporters and addressed themselves to the arena problem.

The two handled themselves extremely well and indulged in a minimum of double-talk. Perhaps they were mindful that the 45 or more sports reporters in attendance sharpen their inquisitiveness on the demands of more than a million San Diego County fans for whom they are often eyes and ears.

Almost an hour was used by Hahn and Boney to explain the moral and legal responsibilities involved in the idea of giving aid to Bob Breitbard's faltering financial situation at the arena. Breitbard is the arena's father and owner of the Gulls hockey and the Rockets basketball teams.

Involved in the construction of the arena with Breitbard was Union Oil Co., the same firm which lost a bunch of Santa Barbara fans by spilling oil on that city's public beaches last year.

For all the legalistic palaver, it took one reporter a single question to get the issue into perspective.

Perceptive and diligent John Wirges, sports editor of Clint McKinnon's Sentinel newspapers, asked the question.

"Do you think," he asked almost innocently of Henry Boney, "that you could be re-elected if the arena is closed?"

"The issue is not political," snapped Boney. "We are dealing with taxpayers' money."

Yet, Wirges' question has a lot of validity going for it. It brought into focus the plight that not only Boney faces, but every one of the board of supervisors — and the city council, too.

No supervisor nor councilman could hope for re-election if the Gulls and Rockets were forced out of San Diego. And that goes for Hahn's appointive job, too.

Supervisors are fortunate in having Boney speak for them. He committed the Board to nothing while leaving little doubt where his sympathies lie. We suspect that a fellow like Supervisor Scheide or DeGraff Austin might have blown it by fat-mouthing the sports scribes and in doing so would have alienated from local government more than a million of the county's sports fans.

A few days later, without invitation, fans filled the supervisors' chambers to make sure they were not to become the forgotten mass. At the meeting details for the reprieve were developed. Fans left with the comfortable feeling that there will always be an arena, and Gulls and Rockets in San Diego for the next 30 years — the period of time over which arena bonds extend.

Fans interest in the arena's problems has given new character to the body politic called the "silent majority."

These are the guys and gals who voted to tax themselves to build the stadium. They are the people who could pull down any political organization if they are denied the privilege of relieving their day-by-day frustrations at a sports contest.

They are the people who believe they have a right to boo Charger Quarterback John Hadl when he has a bad day — although he might have had a half-dozen near perfect ones in a row before that.

These are the people who pay $3 to $6 for the purpose of expressing this feeling at the game.

These same people also express their discontent at the polls. They, more than any other identifiable group, make up the Silent Majority.

Why else would President Nixon get on the phone, under the hot glare of television lights and before enough microphones to give his desk the appearance of a porcupine, to tell some outstanding sports figure that the President thinks the athlete did well that day?

Even Union Oil, which had been notably silent until Wirges suggested that there might be a people reaction, regained its voice to deny that it had been dragging its feet in the solution of the arena problem. Another beachhead of dissidents on the Pacific coast is what Union Oil wants least of all.

There is now reason to believe that there will be a roosting place for the Gulls, the Rockets, the Padres, and the Chargers here so long as any of these sports remain popular.

It also suggests that the formula for any politician who wants to nail down his election must run on a sports platform. The candidate who runs on the Sports Ticket will someday be the guy who runs City Hall.

Walk for Mankind To Attract 25,000

Some 50,000 feet are expected to take the Walk for Mankind in their stride Saturday in San Diego County.

Participants step out at 7 a.m. in four simultaneous walks in Mission Bay Park, El Cajon, Chula Vista and Escondido. Approximately 25,000 persons are expected to participate and raise an estimated $170,000 for Project Concern, Inc.

Project Concern, Inc., will use the funds to support two hospitals and eight clinics, as well as food programs and self-help medical training programs in Mexico, Appalachia, Hong Kong and Vietnam.

The San Diego Padres have indicated support of the walk, and club president E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi has promised a free ticket to a Padres 1970 season game to each person completing the walk route.

For information on the Walk, regarding walkers or sponsors, call Project Concern, Inc., 233-6266.

Top Journalism Award Won By Clovis Hill

Clovis Hill, 8100 Darryl st., Lemon Grove, was chosen California High School Journalism Teacher of the Year by the California Newspaper Publishers Association last week.

It was the second year the award was made. Last year the coveted award was won by Ted Tegema at Alhambra.

Hill has taught journalism at Helix 17 years. His students have won Sweepstake Awards at San Diego State's annual journalism contests 12 of those years. They have also taken second place twice.

His students have won Sweepstake Awards two years out of the three contests sponsored by the San Diego Journalism Education Association.

In the Southern California JEA competition, Hill's students have won three out of ten times.

In 1961 Hill won a John Hay Fellowship in humanities at Yale. He attended Yale in 1962.

He is a member of the San Diego Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalistic society and is frequently called on by the society to judge writing contests.

Grossmont Receives 5-Year Accreditation

Grossmont College President Dr. Robert N. Burnham announced at a special faculty meeting Monday, that Grossmont College had received a five-year accreditation from the Western Association of School and Colleges.

Also receiving a five-year accreditation was Grossmont College's Associate Degree Nursing Program. The college's previous accreditation, granted in 1966, was for a period of four years.

In making the announcement Dr. Burnham said, "during this period many other two-year colleges in the state have faced difficulties in acquiring accreditation, with several receiving one-year accreditations."

"The fact that Grossmont College received the maximum accreditation of five years is a genuine tribute to the faculty, staff, students and community."

The report of the accreditation committee concluded with the following statement: "Grossmont College has taken some giant strides in its development since the last accreditation visit. The most notable developments have been in the areas of administrative reorganization, student and faculty involvement in college affairs and the rapid completion of campus facilities."

The strength of the College continues to rest on the firm foundation of financial and community support. The 'atmosphere' of friendliness and concern for fellow human beings is particularly notable among staff and students as the college continues its transition from a new organization to an established and stable institution. In addition, the College continues to make excellent educational contributions to its students and community.

The main problem facing the College and the district, other than the continuance of development of the present

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department answered two fire calls for the week of Jan. 26-27. One call being minor and the second, more of a serious nature.

On Jan. 27 at 11:20 a.m., firemen responded to a call at 3351 Broadway, the Casa Blanca Rest Home. There was a short in one of the fixtures, but there was no flame, only smoke.

On Jan. 28 at 9:09 a.m., firemen answered a call to 2729 Drew In. The Fire Department report was that Mrs. Ed Manfredi had been washing some clothes in white gasoline in the kitchen. Vapor from the gasoline was ignited from the stove and fire ensued.

An estimated loss to the house and contents was $3500 and Mrs. Manfredi received severe burns. She was given first aid and taken to the Lemon Grove Medical Center.

Capt. Harry Alexander of the L.G. Fire Department, said that during the week of Jan. 26-27.

Lemon Grove Planning Committee Gets Supervisors' Green Light

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County staff help in the formation of a Lemon Grove citizens planning committee has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board acted upon the recommendation of the planning commission as was expected.

The question of whether there should be one large planning effort involving Spring Valley also, two separate but parallel programs for the two communities, or independent programs is yet to be resolved.

The board directed the planning department to continue its exploration along this line. Both communities have outdated zoning patterns with constant pressure for higher density population development.

The county policy is that once an active committee is formed (a process of some six months), zoning changes will be held to those that are an extension of an existing zone, or do not create a wedge for further unplanned rezonings.

County officials feel that only with a citizen-supported community plan can patterns be established and maintained.

A community plan, a two or three year process, can lead to some large scale zone revisions.

IN LEMON GROVE

Curbside Parking May Be Cut Again

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors were faced once again with a recommendation for a prohibition of curbside parking in Lemon Grove.

Action was withheld and the county engineering department directed to contact the local residents and explain why the prohibition is necessary.

The County Traffic Advisory Committee had recommended that parking not be allowed on Skyline drive for 300 feet on each side of Canton drive so that left turn pockets can be created on Skyline.

Mrs. James W. Moss, 7850 Sanford drive, had requested installation of stop signs on all four legs of the intersection.

However, Skyline carries about three times more traffic than Canton and the committee said the imbalance does not warrant stopping traffic on Skyline. Skyline's count reaches 11,000 cars a day. The committee said the intersection is ninth on the county's priority list for traffic lights.

It was pointed out that even if lights are installed, the turn pockets would probably be needed anyway.

The committee said six residents had objected strongly to the no parking zone, but that several residents had expressed reluctant approval because of their realization of the need to improve traffic conditions.

There have been 11 reported accidents in the past three years, and although this is not a high accident rate, most of the accidents have been from left turn movements.

Public Works Administrator David K. Speer said there is a strong need to keep the traffic on Skyline moving. He said stop signs on Skyline would lead to a series of rear end accidents of a relatively minor nature.

BUTCHER AND THE BAKER — Al Borkey, left, expert journeyman meat cutter, has joined his brother-in-law Vincent Provinzano at the latter's Italian bakery-delicatessen at 7860 Broadway, Lemon Grove. Provinzano, holding a chain of home made sausage, says the shop will cater to those who want custom cuts.

Bachelor Butcher Borkey Is Town's Custom Cutter

Al Borkey, expert journeyman meat cutter promises local homemakers a new dining thrill. He promises to do it with the wizardry of his butchering knife.

Borkey, a bachelor — though not a confirmed one — gave up his prosperous butchery shop in Eu Claire, Wis. last month to join Vince, his brother-in-law in the food business. Vince operates Provinzano's Italian Delicatessen and Bakery at 7860 Broadway.

Borkey spent the last 36 years in Eu Claire following his trade which included everything from killing and skinning food animals to curing, aging and custom cutting. The attraction at Provinzano's will be giving the customer the choice of cuts. Al will bring out a section of beef and the shopper indicates the part of his choice and the thickness desired. That evening the customer will have a tender, juicy USDA Choice steak for dinner — cut exactly as he asked.

"We have revived the old-fashioned butcher shop where the customer points out what he wants," Borkey said. "Since we handle only USDA Choice, there will never be a question about quality. Housewives won't have to take the size, shape and quality of meat that some nameless guy prepackaged for supermarket distribution," he said. "Prices will be low or lower than supermarkets," he added.

Provinzano, who makes the Italian, Polish and Hungarian sausage his delicatessen sells, said he has had many requests for Eastern-grown veal, the major ingredient in the sausages, that he made three trips to Wisconsin to convince Borkey to move here. Borkey, of course, does the butchering on the Eastern animals which Provinzano says have the only texture and flavor for making authentic sausages. For a similar reason, they import Iowa pork for homemade pork sausage, he said.

Provinzano opened the bakery-delicatessen in December 1966. Torpedo and hero sandwiches fans soon became an important part of the growing business.

Borkey, who admits that some of the local widows have already become regular visitors to the shop, says he is looking for people who appreciate custom cuts of meat — especially Italian cuts.

And he does not deny he enjoys the visits of the ladies.

NEW HOSPITAL — A $7.4 million-319 bed hospital will be built soon at the southeast corner of Interstate 8 and College ave. The 169,000 sq. ft. facility to be known as Alvarado Medical Center will adjoin the recently completed 309-bed Alvarado Convalescent hospital, a 400-bed retirement center yet to be built and two major office buildings occupied by 80 doctors. National Medical Enterprises, Inc. is the builder.

Ethridge Signs Contract 17 Now in Padres' Fold

Third baseman Bobby Ethridge is among four more players to have signed San Diego contracts, bringing to 17 the number of Padres signed for the 1970 season.

General manager Eddie Leishman said that pitchers Dan Coombs and Leon Everett and infielder Van Kelly returned signed contracts along with Etheridge.

The Padres acquired the 27-year-old right-handed hitting Etheridge in a trade last December with San Francisco. Along with Etheridge, the Padres gained catcher Bob Barton and pitcher Ron Herbel in exchange for Frank Reberger.

Etheridge hit .260 in 56 games for the Giants last season, including a .390 streak in June. He played little after that, often sidelined with a series of ailments including recurrence of an ulcer.

The Padres purchased the left-handed Coombs last November from Houston, where he worked in eight games (0-1) after being recalled from Oklahoma City. He was with the Astros the entire 1968 season, appearing in 40 games, mostly in relief, posting a 4.3 record and a 3.26 ERA.

Everitt appeared in five games with the Padres last season and then suffered a muscle tear in his right shoulder. He completed the season with Key West in the Florida League.

After coming to the Padres in mid-June from Atlanta, the left-handed hitting Kelly batted .244 and appeared in 73 games.

Helix Blitzes Challengers; Monarchs, Sults Convinced

Area teams are starting to get the idea that Helix can't be beat.

And who can blame them? Monte Vista High was primed for an upset of the Highlanders Friday night. The Monarchs had been playing excellent basketball, while Helix was annoyed by a series of minor injuries.

What it meant was a more than convincing, 94-51 win for Helix in a demonstration of prowess probably unequalled in area history.

The Highlanders blew the Monarchs off the court, hitting 15 of their 20 shots in the opening period, jumping off to 10-0, 18-4, and finally, 33-11 leads.

Bill Walton and Mike Dupree devastated the Monarchs with Walton's rebounds starting a series of fast breaks, augmented by Dupree's long jumpers.

Walton, Dupree and Dan Coleman scored eight apiece in that first quarter, and Mike Honz had seven points.

For all practical purposes, the competition had been decided.

Monte Vista recovered enough in the second period to take a 21-18 edge to make the score 51-32 at halftime.

Any remaining Monarch hopes were put to rest at the outset of the third period, when the Highlanders ran off 17 straight points.

Walton finished with 26 points and 29 rebounds, more caroms than the entire Monte Vista team managed; 20.

Walton was supported by Dupree's 26 points. Honz put in 17 and Coleman added 14.

The win put Helix at 8-0 in league play and 23-0 for the year. It was the team's 39th victory in a row over two seasons.

Monte Vista, after pulling within a game of Santana, fell to 5-3 in league and 16-5 overall. The Monarchs trailed Santana by two games.

Bill Belander, averaging more than 23 points in league play, was held to just six points by the combined defensive efforts of Honz and Randy Madsen.

Gary Earle led the Monarchs with 14 points, while Jim Bristol added 13.

Earlier in the week, Helix had shut down Santana, 81-47, as the Sultans put in a bid for the league lead.

Santana and Helix had 6-0 records before the matchup, but the game was never close.

Walton was ill and Butch Paddock sat out the game with a bad back, but the Highlanders weren't below par.

Helix moved to a 38-20 half-time lead and kept pulling away for the victory.

Walton ended with 32 points, while Dupree hustled in 18, despite banging up a hip in a pileup. Coleman had 10 points.

Walton blocked eight shots, gathered in 21 rebounds and hit for 13 of 15 from the floor. Santana had 17 of 84 shots blocked by the Highlanders and were out-rebounded, 58-37. Honz pulled down 15 rebounds to help Walton.

Sophomore Geoff Hinkle pulled in 12 points for the Sultans, who never led in the game.

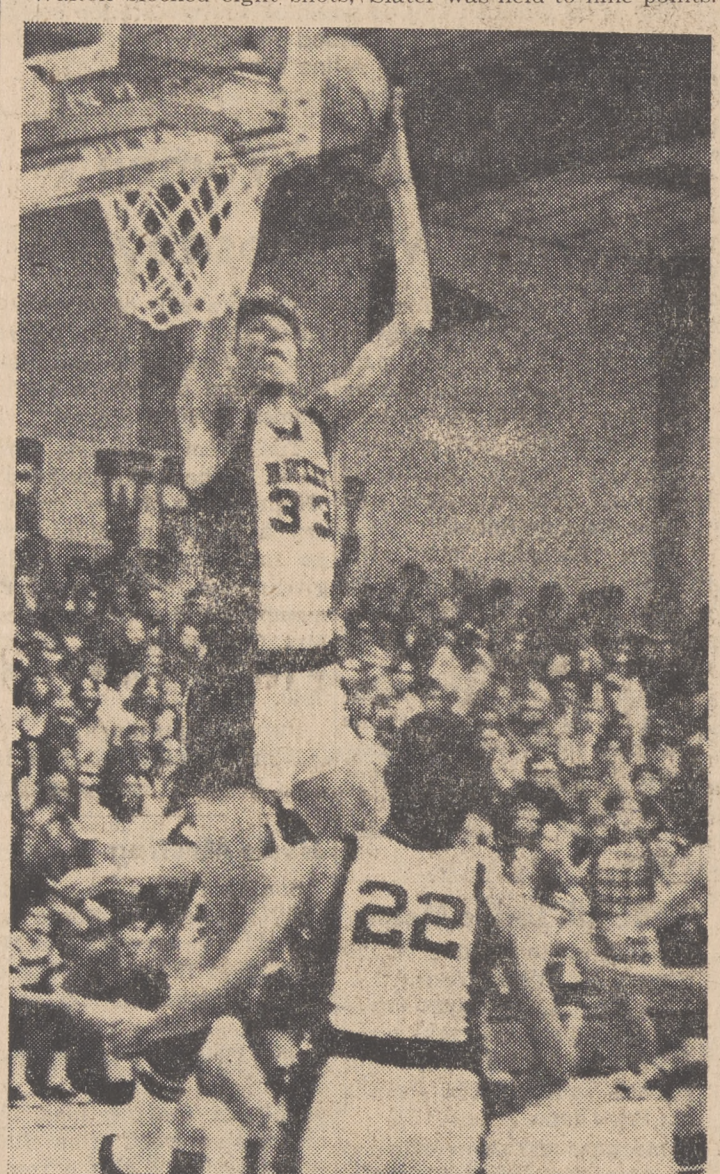

Monte Vista, meanwhile, was tuning up for the Helix clash with a brisk, 99-37 win over hapless Mt. Miguel.

The Monarchs jumped off to a 48-16 halftime lead and kept pulling away in what may have been their best team effort of the year.

After three quarters, Monte Vista led, 81-20.

Belander scored 25 points in that game, hitting 12 field goals. Center Dan Heien added 19 points, while Jim Bristol put in 12. Seven other Monarchs shared in the scoring, with sophomore Jack Cross getting 10 points.

Gary Russ was the only Matador to hit for double figures, 15 points, while John Slater was held to nine points.

OVERPOWERING — Helix' Bill Walton rises to the occasion, as this photo shows. When challenged by league co-leader Santana, Walton responded with 32 points, leading the Highlanders to an easy victory. Walton and his mates host El Cajon tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Battle for Top Spot

Monte Vista entered a three-way tie for first in the Grossmont League's wrestling competition with an impressive, 30-18 win over Helix Friday night.

The win gave the Monarchs a 4-1 league mark, same as El Cajon and Mt. Miguel.

Helix jumped off to a 9-0 lead after three decisions, but the Monarchs won seven straight classes to put the meet away.

76's Make Debut Against Rockets

The Philadelphia 76'ers, which last won a division title under Alex Hannum's guidance, visit San Diego Friday for the first time this season to battle the Rockets and who will they be facing?

None other than past master, Alex Hannum, now coach of the San Diego club.

The veteran National Basketball Association mentor led the 76ers to two consecutive Eastern Division titles in 1966-67 and again in 1967-68. They went all the way that first season, compiling a 68-13 record (best ever in the NBA) and winning the league playoffs. Hannum's team the next year didn't do badly either, winning 62 and losing only 20.

There are still five members of the present 76'er club who remember Hannum's winning technique: All-Stars Billy Cunningham, Hal Greer and Luke Jackson and Matt Guokas and Wally Jones.

Tickets are available at the arena.

HIGH FLYER — Dick Railsback, a 17-8 1/2 vaulter, gives the word on the San Diego Indoor Games, set Friday night, Feb. 20, at the International Sports Arena, to beautiful Loreli, queen of the international meet. Railsback will meet Bob Seagren.

Seagren, Railsback Vault Duel Feature

Olympic Games Champion Bob Seagren, the world's foremost pole vaulter, will top the field for the vault at the San Diego Indoor Games Friday evening, Feb. 20, at the International Sports Arena.

The meet will be combined with the San Diego C.I.F. Championships, which event will serve to settle the indoor team championship of the county's preps.

Seagren will face the number two ranking vaulter in the world, former UCLA star Dick Railsback.

The ex-SC Trojan and the former Bruin have been waging a battle for height on the indoor circuit. Either one is given the chance soon to beat the first over 18 feet.

Seagren has a lifetime best of 17-9 1/2. Railsback 17-8 1/2. Bob has been over 18 cleanly on at least two occasions only to let an errant elbow knock the crossbar off.

The handsome Bob, who was married only two weeks ago, won the Olympic gold medal in a stirring seven-hour duel. He passed the bar at 17-6 and it was this strategy that eventually won him the coveted Olympic crown.

Other gold medalists already entered are Kenya's Ki-penoge Keino, Randy Matson and Dick Fosbury.

Frazier-Ellis Fight Booked at Sports Arena On King-Sized Teevee

SAN DIEGO — The fight that had to be — Heavyweight Champion Joe Frazier versus Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Ellis for the undisputed World Heavyweight Championship — comes to San Diego Monday, February 16, live and in color on big screen closed circuit television at the San Diego Sports Arena.

In making the announcement, Arena manager Les Land said that the fight will be televised direct from ringside at Madison Square Garden, New York City.

"It will be a first for San Diego and the Sports Arena in that it will be shown in full color on our giant screen," added Land.

Ticket for the 15-round spectacular are on sale at the Arena Box Office. Prices are: $7.50, $6.50 and $5.00. There will be no home television.

vision of the battle and it will be shown exclusively at the Sports Arena with no other live showing scheduled in San Diego County.

The fight between Ellis and Frazier should resolve the three-year dispute for the World Heavyweight title. Frazier is recognized by New York, five other states and the World Boxing Council which includes Mexico and the Philippines. Ellis is recognized by the World Boxing Association.

Frazier, a professional fighter since 1965, has won all 24 fights, 21 by knockout. Ellis has been a pro since 1961, fighting as a middleweight and lightweight until May 1965, when he became a full-time heavyweight, winning ten straight in that class.

CHUCKIN' SPORTS

Professional Basketball Needs Better Officials

By Chuck Curtis

This past weekend business took me to Los Angeles so I missed two games by the Rockets and one by the Gulls, but it really doesn't affect this column because it is this editor's desire to talk about the last game between the San Diego Rockets and the Los Angeles Lakers.

It was a rough and tumble contest from the opening tip-off and the Lakers got credit for the win, 113 to 108.

It is not too often that I "belly ache" in this column. Generally I have learned to accept the fact that life is not always fair and we are all human and subject to error.

Today I must vary that formula. The Rocket-Laker game was a farce as far as the officiating was concerned.

Frankly I had heard about Jerry West being given preferential treatment, but until that game I had never witnessed it.

The officials were Don Murphy and Bob Rakel and in my opinion they were not on a par with the officials I have watched this season in the C.I.F.

If you are wondering what I am talking about let me cite a few examples.

John Q. Trapp was covering the "great" Jerry West. West went up for a long shot from the right corner. As he did John Q. went up in an attempt to block the shot. John Q. failed and, as a natural follow through of both men, their arms brushed. The contact came after the shot had cleared and did no harm. The shot went through the hoop. Still, Murphy and Rakel called a foul on John Q. and West made a three-point play.

Scant moments later West wrapped himself around John Q's left leg and made a pass of the basketball to Richie Egan. John Q. was held in such a position he couldn't move without kneeling West in the groin and there was no way he could follow the pass and possibly stop Egan from scoring.

Neither Murphy or Rakel saw fit to charge West with holding.

Need more be said about the officiating?

Three technical fouls were called during the game, two against the Rockets and one against the Lakers. A foul had been called against Elvin Hayes. He walked over and spoke to one of the officials. He spoke quietly and no one heard what he said but a technical was called.

Later Coach Alex Hannum was shocked at the number of defensive fouls the Lakers were permitted without an official call. He stood up and called to one of the officials, "When do we get to shoot a free throw?"

He was immediately called for a technical foul.

Later, in an equalizer, a technical was called against Egan of the Lakers. The call came after a foul was called on the little Laker. He was at the free throw line and his voice could be clearly heard at the press table as he cursed.

This is being written in the hopes something can be done to get better officiating at professional basketball games.

What could well be the most exciting heavyweight fight since those twin fighters Cassius Clay and Muhammad Ali retired from boxing is all set for February 16 in Madison Square Garden, New York.

That is the night the Heavyweight Championship of the World will be decided.

For some time there have been two champions. Joe Frazier has been recognized by New York, five other states and the World Boxing Council which includes Mexico and the Philippines. Jimmy Ellis has been called champion by the World Boxing Association.

Monday, February 16th, these two fighters meet.

What has all this to do with the San Diego sports scene? The only place San Diegans can see the bout, other than flying to New York, is to watch it on closed circuit television at the San Diego Sports Arena.

Les Land, manager of the arena, said, "It will be a first for San Diego and the Sports Arena in that it will be shown in full color on our giant screen."

Tickets for the 15-round spectacular are on sale at the Sports Arena box office, Highlander Men's Stores and Metro ticket agencies. Prices are $7.50, $6.50 and $5.00.

There will be no home TV of the bout and the Sports Arena is the only place it is scheduled in San Diego County.

Matadors Lose To El Capitan

Mt. Miguel got off to a bad start in the second round of Grossmont League play Friday night, dropping a 73-53 game to El Capitan.

In a battle for the cellar, El Cap put the game away with a 25-point burst in the fourth period, that accounted for all but five points of their winning margin.

The Vickery brothers, Steve and Wade, led the Vaqueros to the win with 20 and 16 points, respectively.

Tom Pinkerton added 15 points, while Jim Cooke had 13.

John Slater, as usual, led the Matadors with 19 points, while Mark Ricketts had 12. Gary Russ and Tom Young scored seven apiece.

Slater, a fast-developing junior forward, is averaging just over 19 points a game in league play.

The loss put the Matadors into a tie for seventh with Granite Hills, each sharing a 1-7 mark. Overall, Miguel is 2-16, worst mark in the league.

El Capitan, meanwhile, escaped the three-way tie for the cellar and boosted their league mark to 2-6. They're 5-13 overall.

Gulls Set Record For 3-Game Scoring

SEATTLE — The San Diego Gulls, coming off the biggest offensive explosion of the Western Hockey League season, finish off a hectic week of activity with three games in less than three days this weekend.

The Gulls will play against the Totems here tomorrow night, fly home to San Diego to face the Denver Spurs at the Sports Arena on Saturday night, then head to Denver for a Sunday afternoon rematch with the Spurs.

The whirlwind weekend finishes off a five-game week for the Gulls, who played in Vancouver on Tuesday night and in Portland last night.

San Diego hit double figures twice in three games and rammed home 27 goals in beating Salt Lake, 10-3, and sweeping a weekend series from the Phoenix Roadrunners, 6-4, and 11-2.

The 27 goals in three games was the biggest production in the Gulls' four-year history, and it propelled several of the Gulls higher into the WHL scoring race.

Len Ronson had four goals and eight points in the three games, and regained the WHL leadership in goals with 31 in 45 games. Alex Faulkner, John MacMillan and Warren Hynes also had eight points apiece in the three games, as did Fred Hilts.

Ronson had a five-point night against the Golden Eagles, matching the league high for the season and marking the second time this year that he has reached the five-point level in a game. Faulkner collected five points against the Roadrunners on Saturday evening.

The game against the Totems tomorrow night is a big one for the Gulls. They entered this week's activity battling the Totems for third place in the WHL standings, and the head-to-head meetings between the clubs will probably be the determining factor.

Matmen Compete

The La Mesa Wrestling Club competed in the City-County Championship over the weekend at the Federal Building. One hundred and eighty-six boys were entered in 20 weight divisions.

La Mesa's John Sison repeated as the 65 lb. champion. Sison has gone undefeated in his weight class over the past two years.

The only other place-winner for La Mesa was Rick Duarte at 80 lbs., although good performances were turned in by Darren Blass, 75 lbs.; Mike Williams, 50 lbs.; George Cesena, 50 lbs.; John Uda, 140 lbs.; Charles Kirk, 110 lbs.; and Brian Pullot, 105 lbs.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

When our family travels in-to-Mexico by car we encounter great difficulties in advising the service station attendant to "fill it up" or "check the oil." Would you present some Spanish phrases in your column that could help us to communicate with the attendant?

Let us begin with "fill it up." To construct this phrase "llenar" (to fill) may have the suffix "lo" added. Begin the phrase with "Favor de" (please). The results: "Favor de llenarlo" (Please fill it).

Checking the oil is another matter. "Revisar" means "to review" or "to check." Oil is "aceite." Begin the phrase with "Favor de" (please) and the results will be "Favor de revisar el aceite." (Please check the oil).

Another popular word around service stations in the Spanish-speaking community is "llanta." An expression with this word could also use "revisar." Thus "Favor de revisar la llanta." (Please check the tire).

Most important (at least to the service station attendant) is "la propina" (the tip). That's right. It is a well established custom to give the attendant "una propina" (a tip) as this gratuity is usually his sole source of income.

If you travel by car to Mexico the practice phrases in today's lesson listed below will be of benefit to you. A recorded voice will say the same words and phrases for you as an aid to learning when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES: Say "Favor de llenarlo." (fah-VOHR deh yeh-NAHR-loh)

Society Thanks Paper For Story

Dear Editor:

I'm taking this means to thank you for the publicity your paper gave us on our Pot Luck Supper last week. The residents who came provided the covered dish and men donated $1.

The money goes to restoration of the Bancroft Adobe building at 9050 Memory lane. Spring Valley has the only historical museum building for miles around.

Hubert Bancroft wrote several sets of books of the Far East frontiers from Alaska through Central America. His son, a professor at Walnut, gave them to us. They are open to the public. Students and researchers find them very interesting.

Students are now digging on the grounds for artifacts. Thank you so much for your help.

SI Notices Super Bill

Helix' super-center Bill Walton has received national attention.

The Highlander great, listed at 6-10½ but widely reported to be several inches taller, caught the eye of the national press when he dominated the Covina Tournament during Christmas vacation.

Sports Illustrated ran a face shot of Walton in their "Faces in the Crowd" section near the back of the magazine, listing Walton's accomplishments in the tourney.

Among which were a 50-point game in the finale and selection as the tournament's most valuable player. Walton led Helix to the title in a breeze.

Among the Highlander victims in that tourney were a pair of teams, Long Beach Millikan and Pasadena, which are ranked in the Los Angeles' Southern Section's Top 10.

Since San Diego teams traditionally are second-rate to Los Angeles quintets, Walton's and Helix' efforts drew a careful look by the freeway-city's scouts.

Walton and the Highlanders played on the tube Friday night, when their crucial clash with Monte Vista was telecast to this area by Channel 39.

Pregnant Teenager Is Topic

The Pregnant Teenager is the subject of a two day conference which will be held in the Kon-Tiki Room of the Catamaran Hotel in February 13-14.

This conference, co-sponsored by the Maternal Child Health Council and Unit I of the California League for Nursing, will include the people, the problems and the programs are inter-related in this growing community problem.

A concentration of interdisciplinary talents will be available to deal with this crisis of today.

Program participants will include Frank Ayd, M.D., distinguished author and psychiatrist from Baltimore, Maryland; Reuben Pannor, A.C.S.W., author of a book awaiting publication on "The Unmarried Father," a panel of school personnel who will deal with "The Crisis in the Classroom," as well as a panel of teenagers who have already dealt with the problem of pregnancy.

This conference is not unique in its concept. The Maternal Child Health Council and Unit I are taking their lead from a similar and highly successful interdisciplinary conference held last year in San Francisco.

The aim of the conference is to assist those professionals who find themselves confronted with the problems (social, educational, psychological or medical) which are associated with teenage parenthood today.

The sponsoring of this type conference is in keeping with derlying aim, that of "involve the League for Nursing's unmet" in the community, and of facilitating cooperation between community and allied health fields at a time when the needs seem especially great.

What is a Sustaining Member? The question is answered: He is a person who goes beyond his United Community Services contribution because he believes in the Scout program and backs up this belief with his membership. Members are parents of boys in Scouting active or past-active Scouters, friends of Scouting.

Canada is one of the world's leading producers of uranium.

Teen Center Looks For Bigger Home

The Teen Action Center of Spring Valley is announcing that they are in the process of researching plans for a large residential home where they can reach people on a 24 hour day basis, says the director Nova Smith.

Their new program will afford them a full time director type project, in contrast to the work of their former location at the Thrifty Mart Shopping Center off of Jamacha road. In the meantime individual workers are "following up" and progressing weekly with rap sessions and Bible study.

Any one interested in the researching and studying of the relocation of teenage work, please contact Director Nova Smith, (463-8508), assistance director, Mrs. Harriet McLain, (582-1742), and Mrs. Anne Lowe, (466-3053).

Organizations that have not been contacted for nominations are asked to write or call Mrs. M. I. Metzger, 424 Compton, El Cajon, for application blanks. The deadline for submitting nominations is March 2.

The association was instigated in 1963 and is co-sponsored by teachers, administrators, PTA representatives from the school districts within the Grossmont Union High School District, along with Foothills Secondary Council, CCPT.

Individuals who volunteer themselves to make our schools more effective are honored with the Laurels award. Forty-four persons have been honored to date.

On Saturday Pack 318 will display the winning rockets at the SCOUT-A-RAMA being held at the Grossmont Shopping Center on the Mall, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Sunday, is SCOUT SUNDAY and Pack 318 will furnish ushers for Sunday services at The First Congregational Church, their sponsoring organization, in Lemon Grove. Gabe and Sheila DeNunzio, Cubmaster and Den Mother Coordinator respectively, were presented with a plaque and a silver mug in appreciation for their services for the past twenty months.

Under their leadership, Pack 318 grew from an almost-defunct group to over fifty Cub Scouts — the largest Pack in Lemon Grove area. The new Cubmaster, Van Holland, made the presentations assisted by Gil Nadeau, Pack chairman and Mrs. Sam Smith, the new Den Mother Coordinator.

The Annual BLUE AND GOLD Banquet will be held the evening of February 23 at the sponsoring organization's social hall. Families of the Cub Scouts traditionally hold a pot-luck dinner during Scout Week. Advancements and Awards ceremonies will highlight the evening for over two hundred Scouts and families who are expected to attend.

Buffet Dinner

A buffet dinner will be held February 14 from 6 to 8 p.m. in honor of Kappa Alpha Chapters Candidate for Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Queen.

The buffet will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Dutton. Miss Mellor will be presented with the traditional crown shaped brooch and a floral tribute.

Guest Night

Mrs. Arden Bryant, Worthy Matron, will preside. Mrs. Evie Norr, P. M., will chairmen for the evening. The officers of San Miguel Chapter will entertain their special guests after the meeting at specially decorated tables in the banquet hall.

Monarchs Get Big Victory

Helix kept its winning record intact while Monte Vista made an important move towards making the playoffs in Tuesday afternoon Grossmont League basketball action.

The Monarchs, a full two games behind second place Santana, beat the Sultans in their own gym to trim the margin to one game.

The Sultans still have Helix on their schedule, an almost certain loss, which means the race for second shapes up as a tie.

The top two teams in the league at season's end will advance to the playoffs.

The Monarchs got double figure support from four starters in winning, 65-57.

Jim Bristol had 21 points, Bill Belander 14, Gary Earle 15 and Dan Heien 13.

Meanwhile, Bill Walton and Mike Dupree scored enough points between them to match El Capitan, as the Highlanders won, 93-49.

Walton had 30 points, while Dupree had 19. Randy Madison added 10.

Mt. Miguel was left by itself in the cellar with a 1-8 record, losing to El Cajon, 65-50. Cellarmate Granite Hills beat Grossmont, 74-66, to break the tie.

BLUE CHIP PROJECT — Father Henry Vetter, founder of Rancho Nazareth Orphanage, and Melanie Willis, 10386 Rancho Rd., La Mesa, discuss the project to collect 640 books of Blue Chip Stamps to buy a bus for the orphanage. The project was initiated by Heartland Youth for Decey. The youngsters, in cooperation with adult volunteers and Father Vetter's organization, Aid to Baja California, recently had a rummage sale to raise funds to build a dormitory at the orphanage. The orphanage was destroyed by fire a week after Christmas and the children are staying in homes in Tecate and Tijuana until quarters can be built. Fr. Vetter cited the need for building materials, cash and Blue Chip Stamps. Donations should be sent to P.O. Box 11, Spring Valley.

Camping Scout Theme For Center Display

A booth display focused on examples of winter and summer camping will be the theme of Lemon Grove Boy Scout Troop 376 at the "Scout-O-Rama," to be held Saturday at the Grossmont Center from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The affair is being held in conjunction with Scouting's 60th anniversary and with Scout Week, Feb. 7-13.

All Boy Scout Troops, Explorer Posts and Cub Scout Packs in the Grossmont District will be participating.

Troop 376, sponsored by St. Phillips Episcopal Church, 2660 Hardy dr., will use its four patrols to assist in the presentation.

They will display summer and winter parachute tents, full back packs, cooking sets, first aid supplies, a canoe and a raft and various other equipment.

Sunday morning the Troop will serve as ushers for services at St. Phillips as well as other churches of its members.

Czech Film Festival At Grossmont Now

Grossmont College is presenting a week-long Czechoslovakian Film Festival in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

The feature-length prize-winning Czechoslovakian films are accompanied by selected award-winning short films.

"The End of August at the Hotel Ozone" portrays a shattering scene of life after the third World War. No one is left alive except eight young women and one old one, who wander like nomads over the burned landscape.

"Martyrs of Love" is three tales about three slightly befuddled young people. The junior clerk seeks romantic salvation with the jet-set but only finds frustration in his love affair with an adding machine and a Czech swinger.

"Vali, The Witch of Positano" is a story of an "acid age" Heidi Vali, a weird Australian artist-recluse possessed of supernatural powers, lives in the seclusion of a hut in the woods near Positano, Italy surrounded by a husband, five dogs, a fox, a donkey, assorted cats, chickens and other animals.

"Summer War," a Danish film and "Dodge City," an American film will accompany "The End of August at the Hotel Ozone." "Homo Ludens," a Swedish film, and "Apprenticeship," a Czechoslovakian film, will be shown with "Martyrs of Love." Accompanying "Vali, The Witch of Positano," will be "Brummer's," "Image," and "Flora," three prize-winning short American art films.

"The End of August at the Hotel Ozone," and "Martyrs of Love," with "Summer War," "Dodge City," "Homo Ludens," and "Apprenticeship" will be screened at 7 p.m., Thursday.

"Vali, The Witch of Positano," and "Martyrs of Love," with "Brummer's," "Image," "Flora," "Homo Ludens," and "Apprenticeship" will be screened at 7 p.m., Friday.

The Czechoslovakian Film Festival will be climaxed on Saturday, when the three feature films and seven short films will be screened at 7 p.m. The public is invited to view this outstanding selection of prize-winning art films.

It is a yearly program, held in various locations. Among this year's enrollees were (along with Capt. Alexander) Spring Valley Fire Chief Frank Berger; Battalion Chief (Fire Marshal) Stanley Mourning; and Battalion Chief (Training Officer) Darrell Stager, the last two from the S.V.F.D. The main speaker was Dr. George Sugarman Ph.D. in Management.

STUDY-VOYAGE TO RETURN — Among the 465 World Campus Afloat/Chapman College students who returned to the United States Jan. 29 when the s.s. RYNDAM docked at Los Angeles were (l. to r.) State's Jr. Colleges May Receive Boost SACRAMENTO — California's public junior colleges would receive a $33 million boost in state aid under legislation introduced today by Senator Clair W. Burgener, R-San Diego.

"While the increased aid to our junior colleges still does not meet the required percentage the state should be paying under the Master Plan for Higher Education," the lawmaker said, "it is a realistic amount based both on immediate needs of our two-year colleges and the maximum amount the state is able to provide."

Burgener's proposal would increase the per-student aid from $643 per full time student per year to $718.

"Recent statistics show that the state still will not have reached the $801 per student cost which is the state's current obligation to junior colleges," Burgener explained, "but hopefully it will reach that level eventually."

Burgener, a member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education, said the state is obligated to pay for 45 per cent of program costs for junior colleges as outlined in the Master Plan for Higher Education, but is now paying only 30 per cent of the costs.

"While the $33 million is a sizeable figure," he said, "it nowhere approaches what the University and State Colleges receive in state aid."

"There is no level of higher education in California where the taxpayer receives such a bargain for his money than at the junior colleges," he said.

"Our junior colleges educate more than 600,000 students annually at the 91 campuses at a per student cost of $801 compared to the $2,600 annual cost for the State College student and $5,200 for the University student."

"Our junior colleges rely heavily on financial support from local property taxes," Burgener said, "while the University and State Colleges receive most of their aid from the state."
